

TORONTO SKYLINE RAPPEL

OCT 5, 2020 // RBC SOUTH PLAZA TOWER

OUTWARD BOUND
CANADA

EMBRACE ADVENTURE

On Monday, October 5, 2020, Outward Bound Canada is taking to the sky and making a mountain out of one of Canada's tallest buildings.

Join us for the first-ever Toronto Skyline Rappel, an exhilarating and once-in-a-lifetime opportunity for thrill-seekers to rappel 590 feet down an icon of the Toronto city skyline.

In support of Outward Bound Canada's programs for empowering youth, the Toronto Skyline Rappel will see up to 40 participants descend down the RBC tower, taking part in an unprecedented experience that will be sure to satisfy even the most ultimate of adventurers.

In collaboration with the logistics teams responsible for executing recent rappels atop Hong Kong's One Island East and London's The Shard, and the first-ever rappel of the Empire State Building, the Toronto Skyline Rappel matches Outward Bound's international reputation for adventure and risk management, with an opportunity to support a global movement focused on giving young people the chance to build critical skills for life and start down a path towards better understanding who they are and what they are capable of. Join us on October 5 and soar in support of Outward Bound Canada!

OUTWARD BOUND CANADA'S IMPACT

Since 1969, Outward Bound Canada has used the Canadian wilderness as our classroom in order to provide youth with authentic opportunities for personal growth, community building and the cultivation of resilience, leadership, connections and compassion.

JOIN THE EXECUTIVE CHALLENGE

We are challenging executives across Toronto to gear up, tie in and open the doors to your network in support of Outward Bound Canada. If you have a thirst for adventure and a desire to support Canadian youth, you will not want to miss this once-in-a-lifetime opportunity.
